Open Forum (Information)

Ben & Carson (YDSA)

For students to be able to voice their opinion regarding Palestine & Israel

Protection of freedom of speech

To be able to criticize either side of the war.

To meet demands of all clubs involved

To ensure that freedom of speech isn't closed off to student

Affirm the rights of student groups to express their opinion on the matter (in the resolution)

LK & Amary

To be able to release a statement that reflects the student voice.

To not offend anyone

No censorship within ASI, open meeting to all to include everyone's opinion.

Open to feedback regarding what the resolution should cover to cater to everyone.

CPP doesn't prevent freedom of speech, however, does not approve of hate speech

Naman

Students at the forefront of the conversation

Beginning to be centered around students and students in mind.

Open ended as possible for students to voice their concern.

Carlos

To acknowledge the deaths and crimes occurring during the war

Melody

That ASI doesn't consider criticism of the Israeli Government to be hate speech
(shouldn't be considered as antisemitic)

James

inclusive-exel@cpp.edu

Open resources available for students on campus to voice their concerns and questions.

Discussion Items

Resolution Creation

Election Committee Code

- -rethinking the entire structure of the code.
- -would be a conflict of interest considering if the role were to involve a member in cabinet & BOD
- -can't reach a conclusion on the statement and will be tabled

Joint Budget Committee Code

Audit Committee Code

- -last revised in 2005
- -why wasn't it revised much sooner?
